Real wood veneer

Explore new perspectives

Recognised for its versatility, expressed in the innovative way it can be transformed, natural wood veneer is a timeless trend in the world of architecture and interior design. Unique in appearance, texture and grain configuration, Natural wood veneered doors present an opportunity to explore new perspectives for projects that are intended to be creative and distinctive.

As a natural product, its versatility is reflected, among other attributes, in the numerous ways it can be cut and joined, resulting in veneers with individual character, such as pronounced veins, crown, half crown and quarter cut effects, or even a straight and subtle appearance.

The originality and beauty of this natural product is no longer limited by its species. Modern and enhanced tones can be achieved through Vicaima's Naturdor® Stained ranges, which explore new dimensions in tone and design.

Authentic finishes, solid colours or playful visual enhancements create a palette from pastel to bold and from pale to dark. The scope to inspire professionals from every sector, with inspirational veneered solutions is almost endless. Whatever the environment, Naturdor® from Vicaima shows that nature has the answer.

In your journey between authentic and contemporary, and where the beauty of natural wood veneer is key, this Naturdor® catalogue presents numerous design options for doors, configurations and various technical performances, such as fire protection, acoustics or security.

Enhanced Finish

Taking veneer to another level

Selecting grain configuration, direction and even tonal shades is not the limit of possibilities when it comes to the natural beauty of real wood veneers. Other enhanced features can be brought into the equation to create a finished product that has more than something special to offer. Whether reflective surface sheen, textural grain or added embellishments such as grooves and inlays, can all add to that finishing touch and element of originality sought for your project.

Ordinarily the most commonly used reflective sheen found on Naturdor® veneered doors from Vicaima, is satin. This is often referred to as standard sheen. However if you are looking for something different you can select from either Matt or High Gloss as an optional alternative.

Matt

If you are looking for a flat, low reflective surface finish then matt is the answer.

This subtle surface provides a classic understated charm, that brings out the best in real wood surfaces.

High Gloss

Give your chosen doors the luxurious appeal of a high gloss finish.

Adding a gloss sheen lacquered coating can transform the final product, providing real enhanced design quality for your project.

Available on selected veneers from the Naturdor® ranges.

Satin

Subtle yet with a lavish feel, the Satin finish for doors provides an elegant finishing touch that enhances the quality of real veneer. Presenting Naturdor® products at their best, can always be achieved with the use of a Satin sheen.
